

Obituary

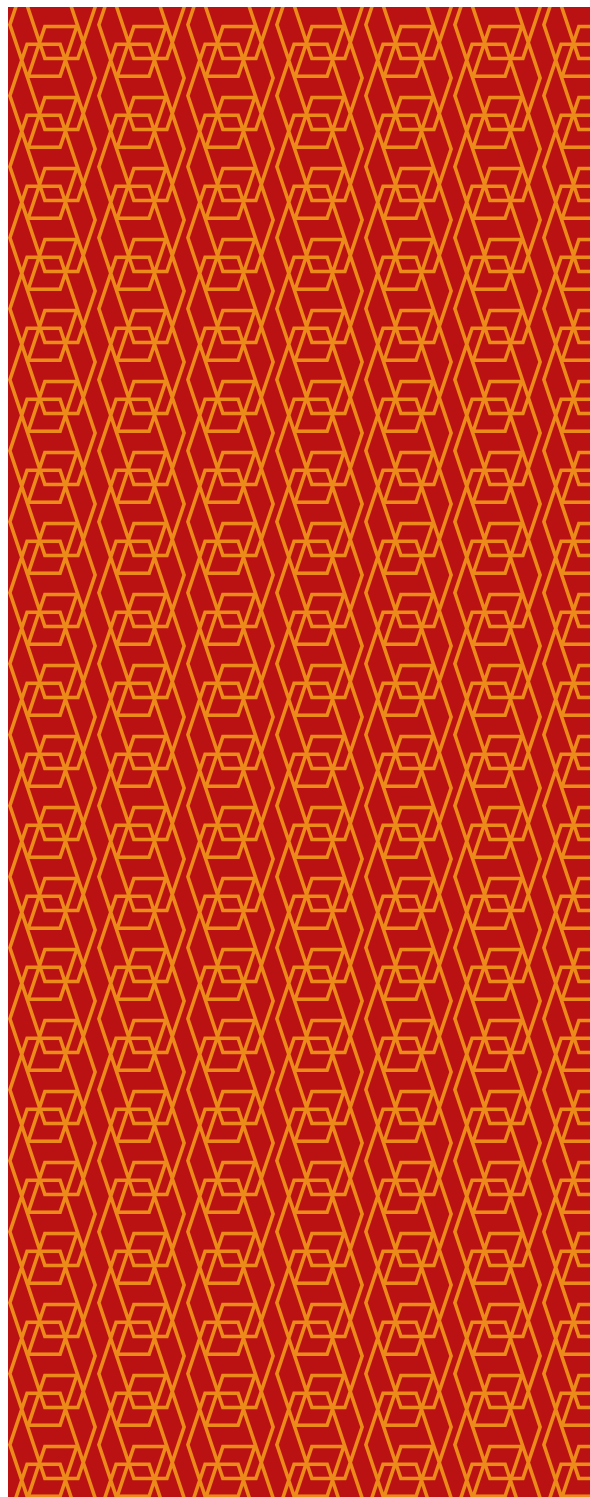

RIP Siegfried

Eaten by the Jabberwocky hiding in the sunken dungeon.

RIP Johanna

Followed voices into the woods when we camped by the singing trees.

Plans

Investigate the glamour house

The glamour house is fascinating but probably also deadly; let's figure out what's up with it.

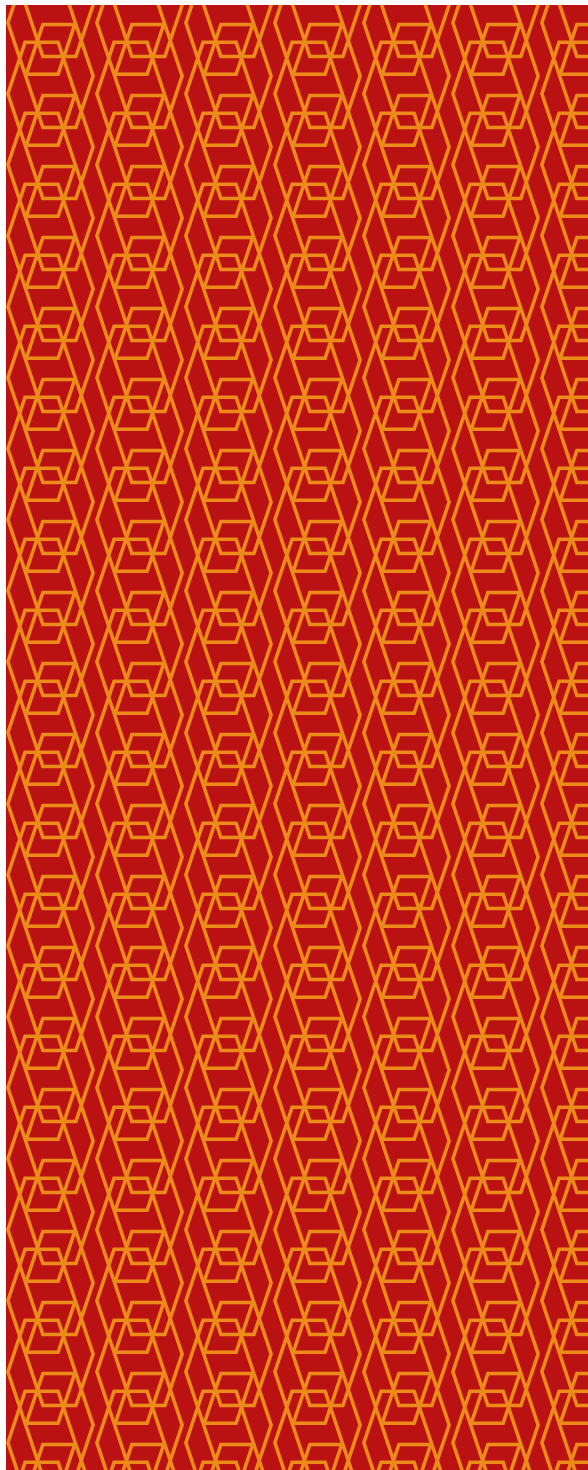

Find and rescue Cleetus

Without him, his hillbilly band can't perform! He wandered into the woods to the east of Dingsdorf.

Cursed dagger?

Ricarda is acting weird after finding the dagger in the sunken dungeon. She says it's fine, but the party thinks we should at least find out more.

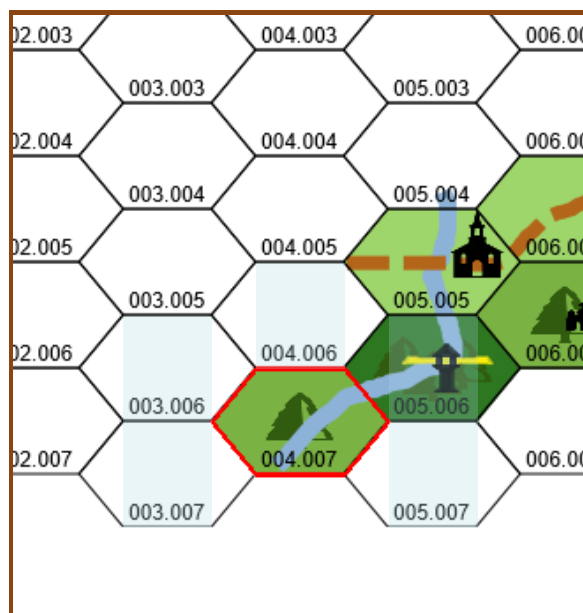

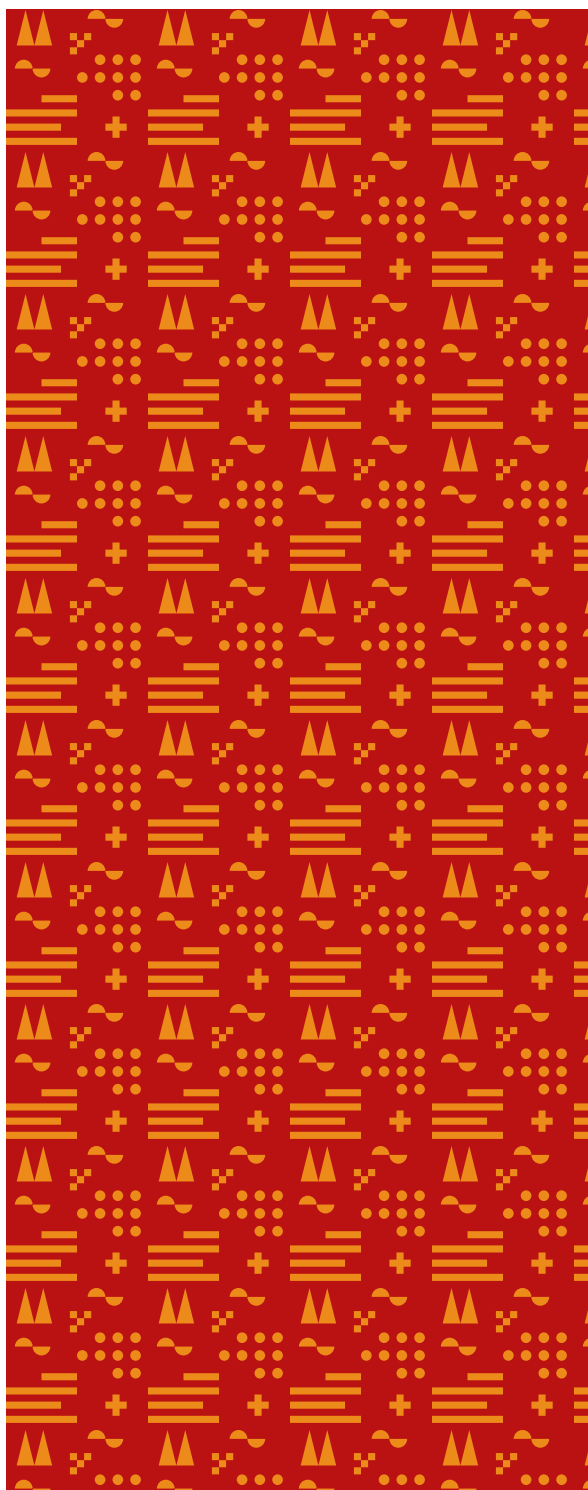

River into the Woods

Our way in

Basic information

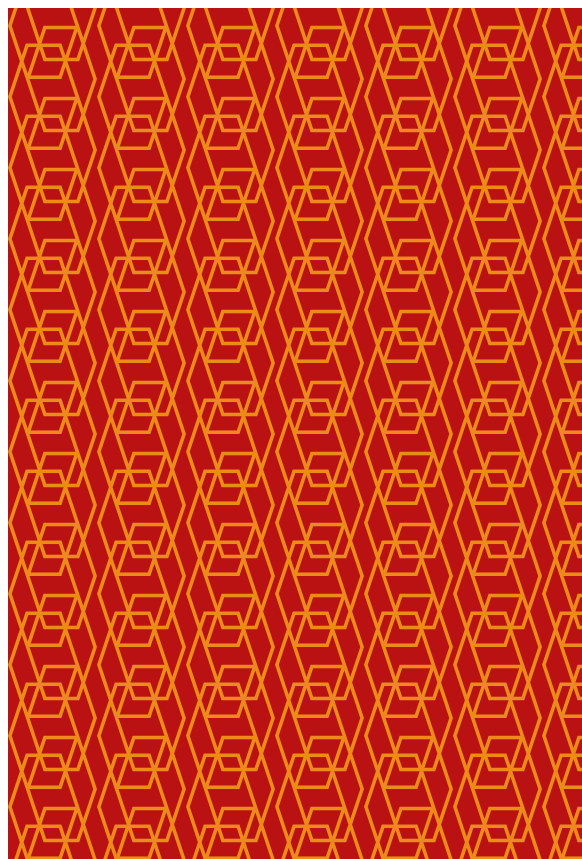

Explored? No, we just swam through.

Terrain - light woods.

Start of our expedition

We entered the woods by boat here, but just followed the river down.

Dingsdorf

A place to find all sorts of Dings

Burgermeister Bobguy

The mayor is cheery and runs the tavern we stayed in, the Bathing Buck.

Cletus is missing

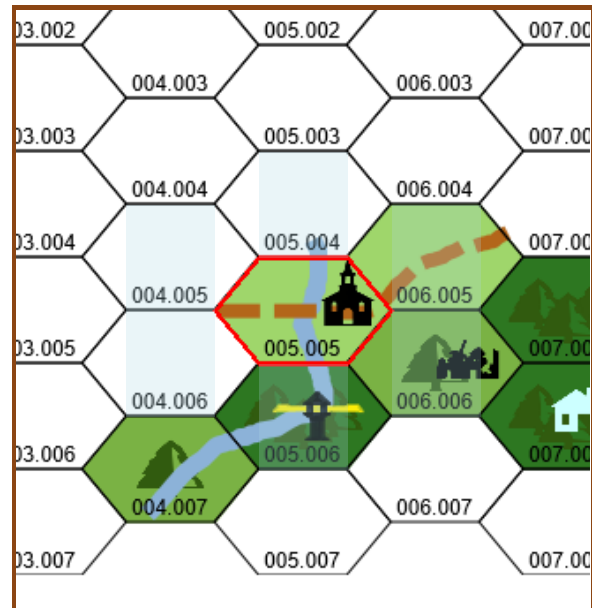

Cletus's band can't perform without him, we said we'd try to help. We love the accents of these NPCs, how can we resist?

Rumors of trouble to the north

Apparently strange creatures have been sighted to the north near Altdorf.

Treasure???

The Eagles threw a huge rager, they found treasure somewhere behind a waterfall to the northwest. They went to get more and haven't come back...

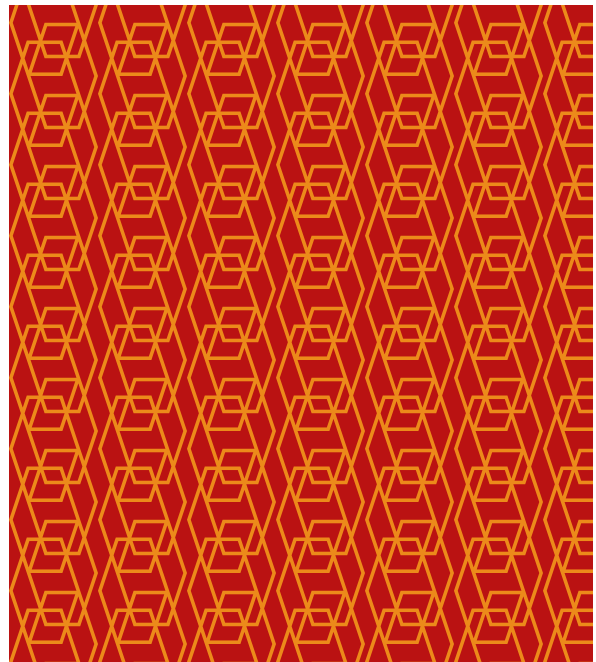

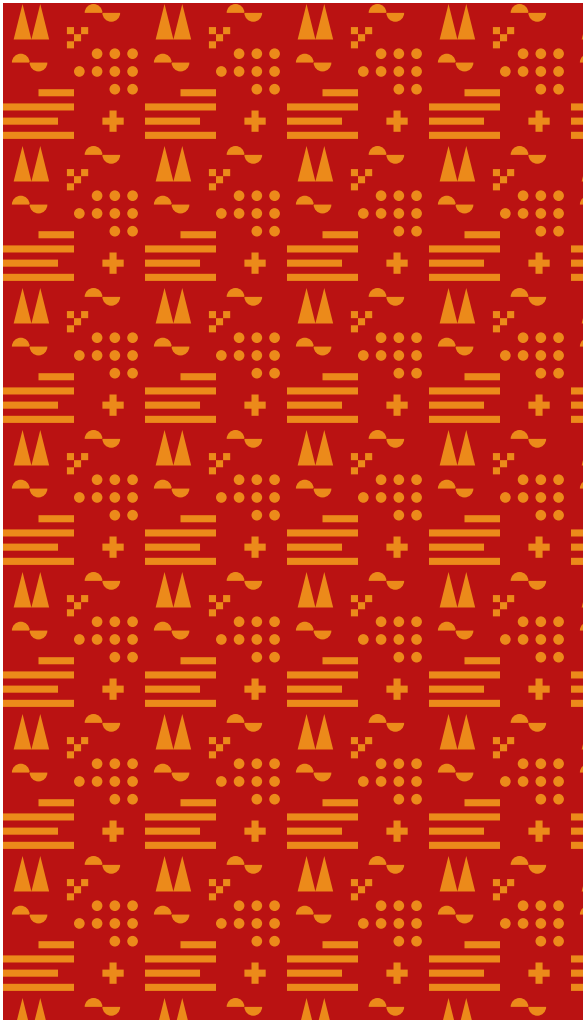

Unsuspecting Mother Graham

Mother Graham runs the apothecary shop. She's old, dresses in purple, and just exchanging a few words with her makes you trust her. Nice, normal old lady!

Caravan to Altdorf

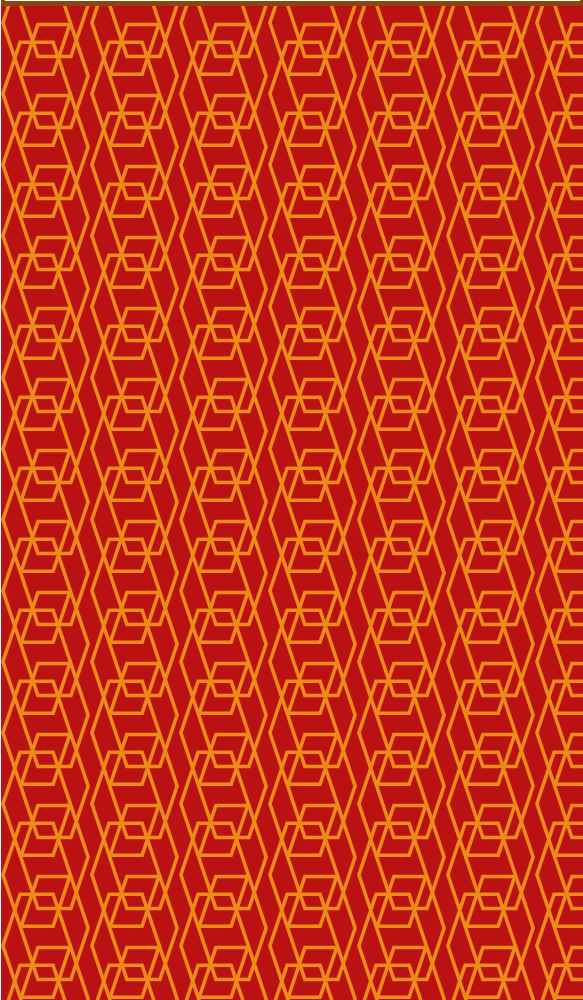

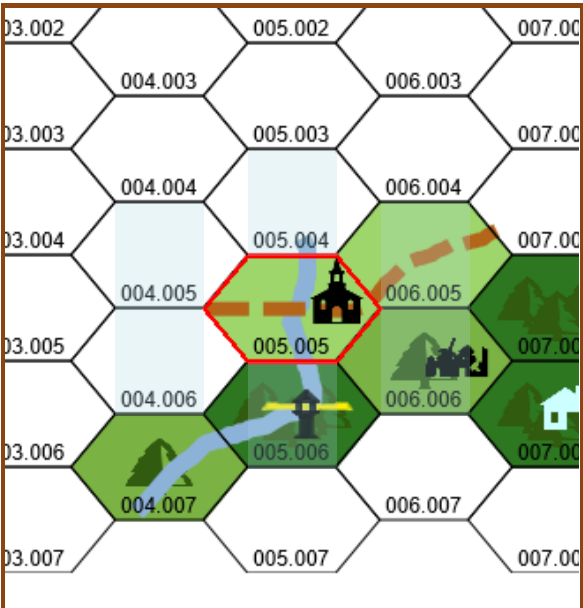

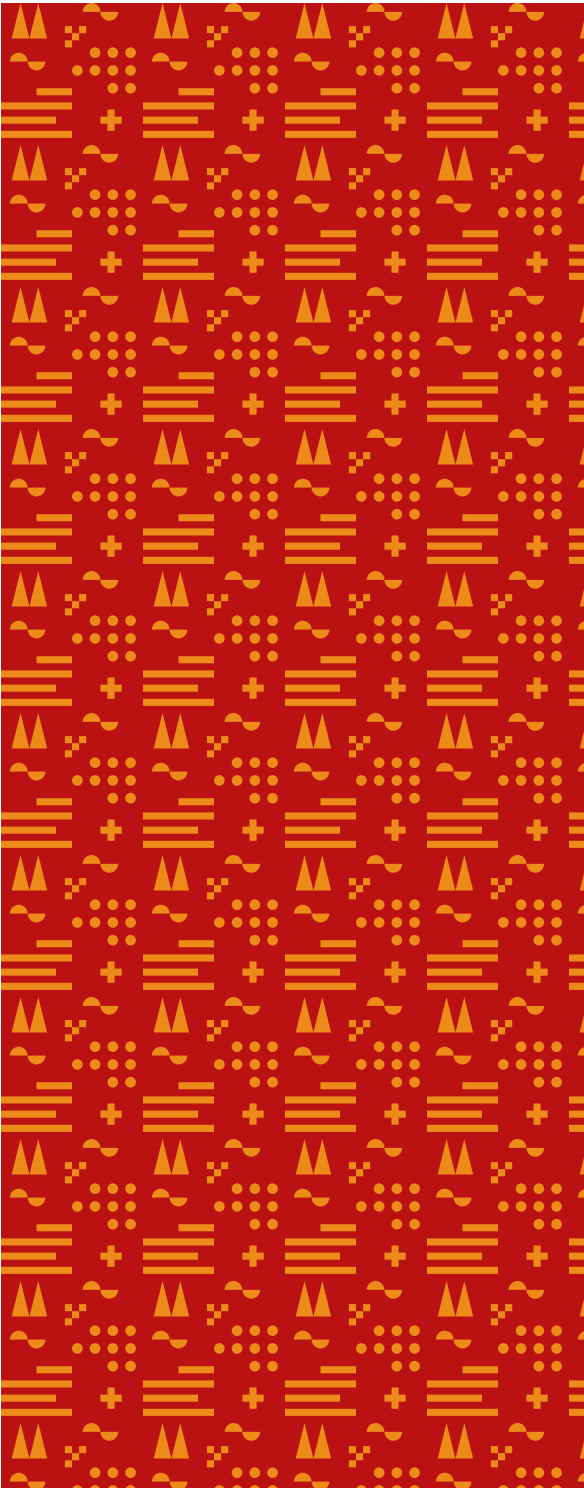

The successful merchant Lady Flintlock is heading to Altdorf next week (Week 2), we could accompany her as guards.

Example - you can have multiple pages for the same cell

Here's where my additional content would go
If I had any!

Tree Lighthouse

A lighthouse built into a massive tree

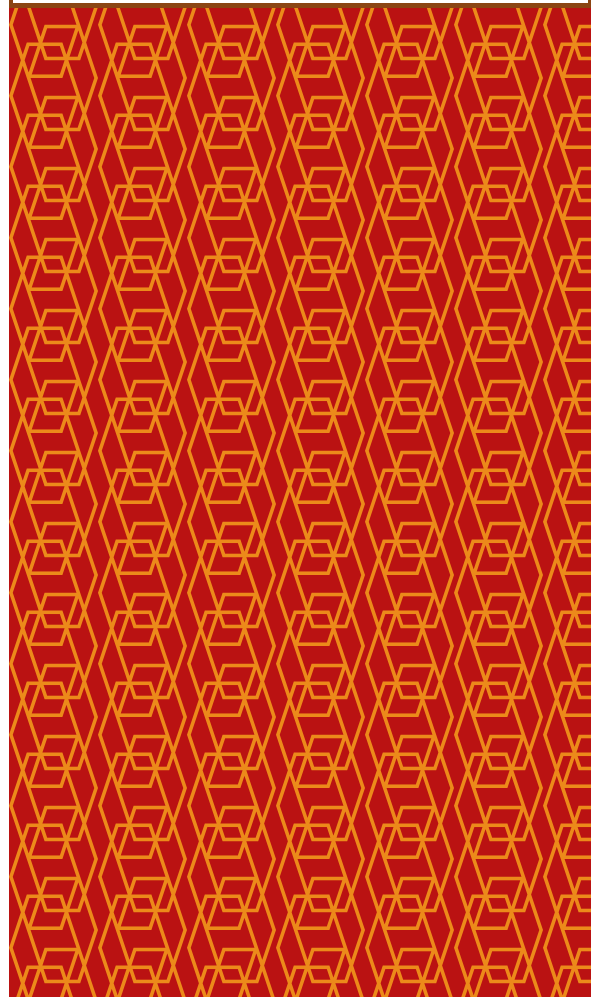

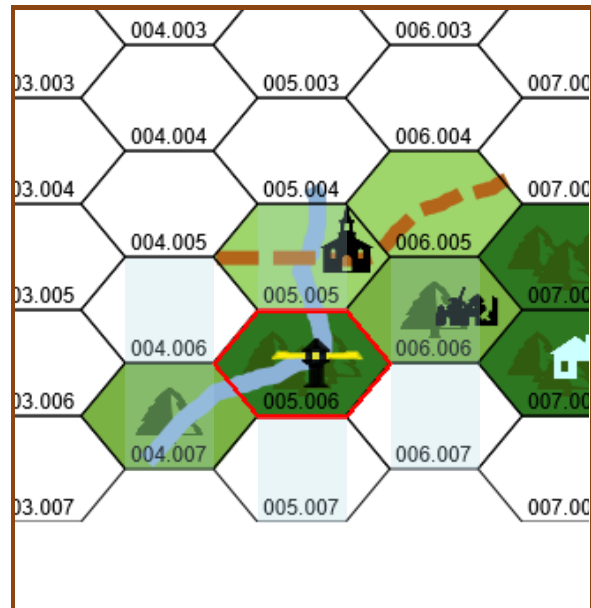

Basic information

Explored? No, we just swam through.

Terrain - dense woods.

Tree Lighthouse

There's a tree towering over the rest of the woods here, which clearly has ladders, windows, and doors set into it. Under the crown of a tree is a lens; the sailors told us that it shines a bright blue light on nights of the new moon. There will be a new moon in Week 3.

Eastway

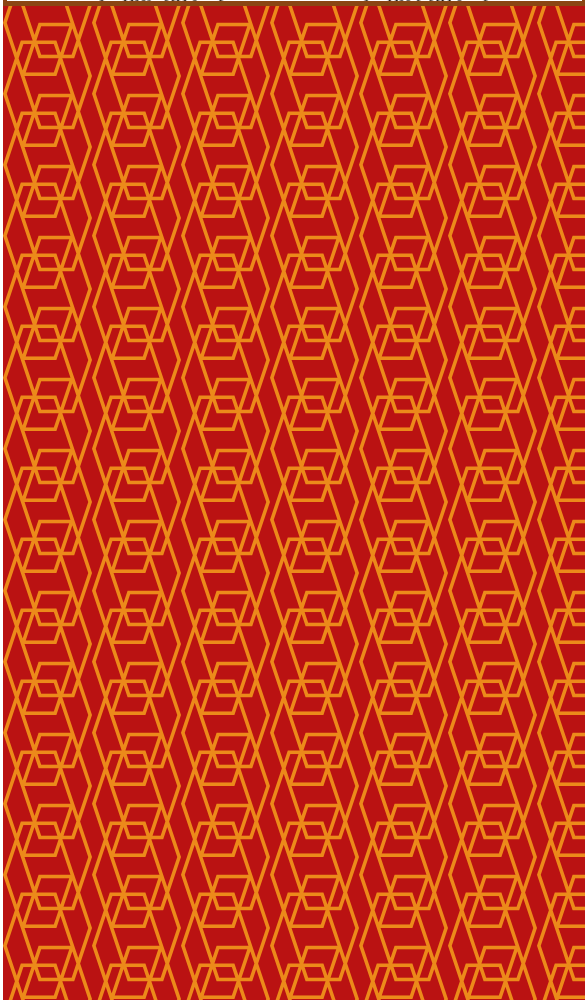

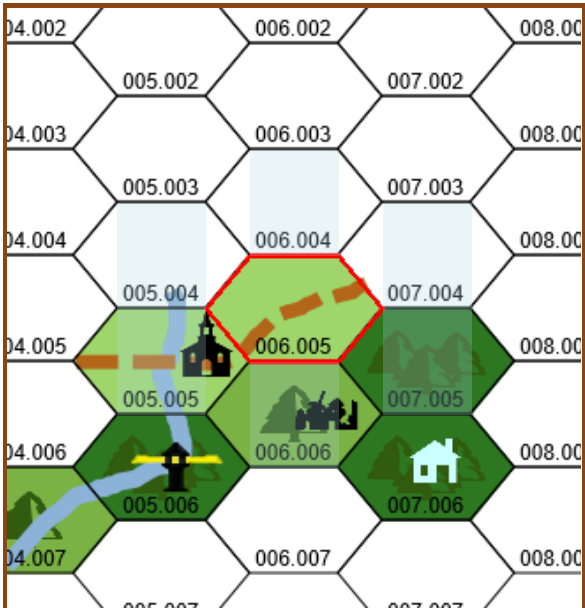

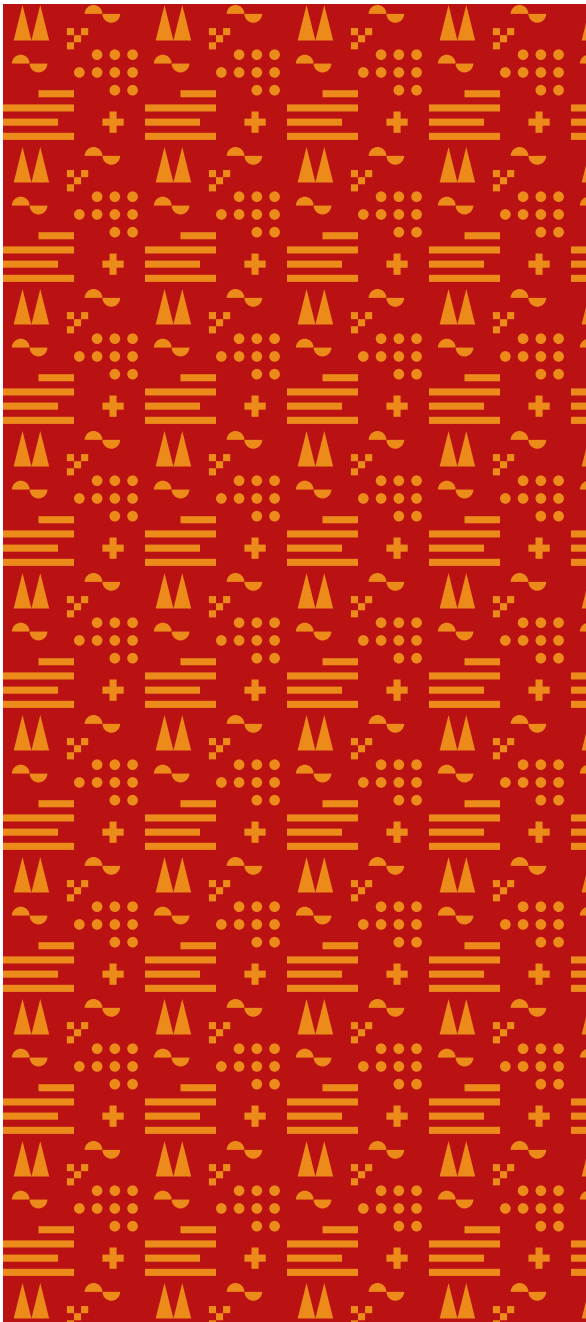

Nobody said the people of the woods were creative with names, ok

Basic information

Explored? Partially
Terrain - farmland.

Boar people

We saw immaculately dressed men and women dancing in a fairy ring in the woods. These people had massive, oversized boars heads.

Sunken Dungeon

Flooded ruins of an ancient sect

Basic information

Explored? Fully, except for the dungeon.

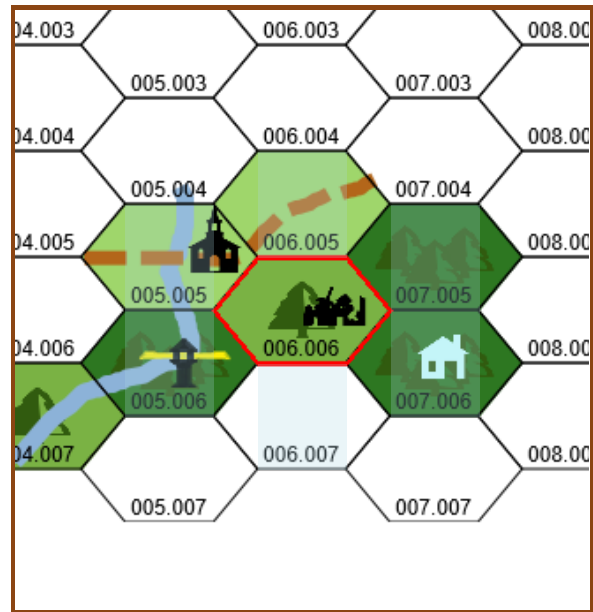

Terrain - Light woods.

Cletus?

We tracked Cletus to this forsaken place. Apparently he's been fishing in the pond outside, which is clearly contaminated by the fae magics of the place. It's likely that Cletus is being held prisoner inside.

Goblin raiders

Not outright hostile, but not welcoming. They said they could "help us" find Cletus if we got rid of some sort of monster that lives below, but weren't forthcoming with details. We're fairly sure that Cletus is their prisoner and are considering double-crossing them.

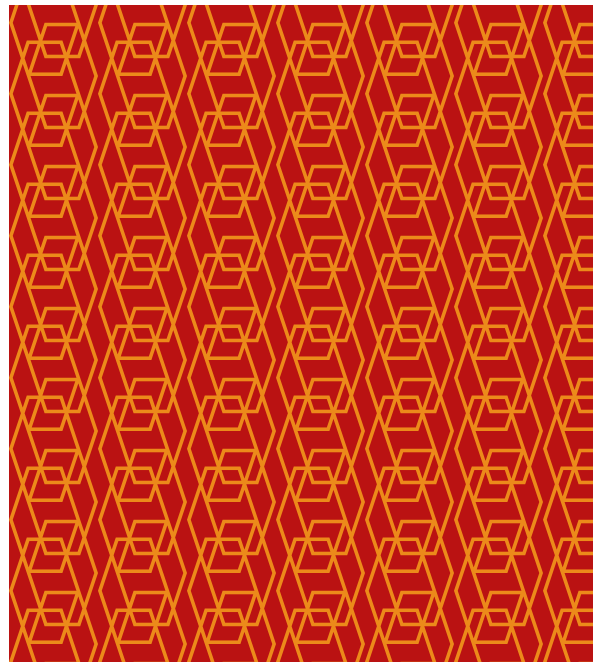

Ancient dragon cult

An abandoned section of the dungeon was clearly used for arcane research in the past; we think it was a cult of a black dragon. Maybe some of the dragon's hoard could still be found?

Cursed Dagger

Ricarda found a magical dagger. The hilt is a ram's head, its horns curve downwards and become the blade.

Singing Trees

The wind howls an entrancing melody

Basic information

Explored? Partially.

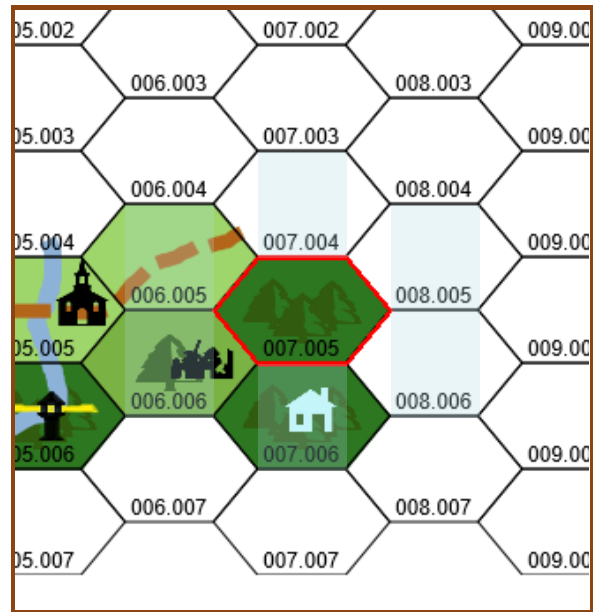

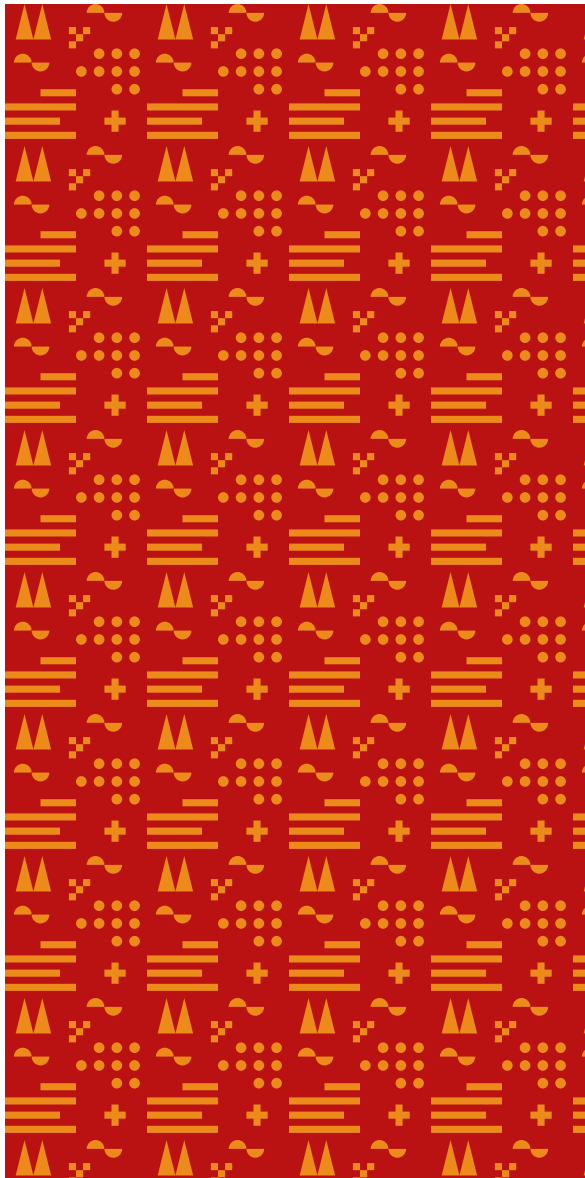

Terrain - Dense woods.

Singing Trees

The trees here are fancifully warped into curved shapes. When the wind blows, it makes a melody that seems entrancing but somehow incomplete.

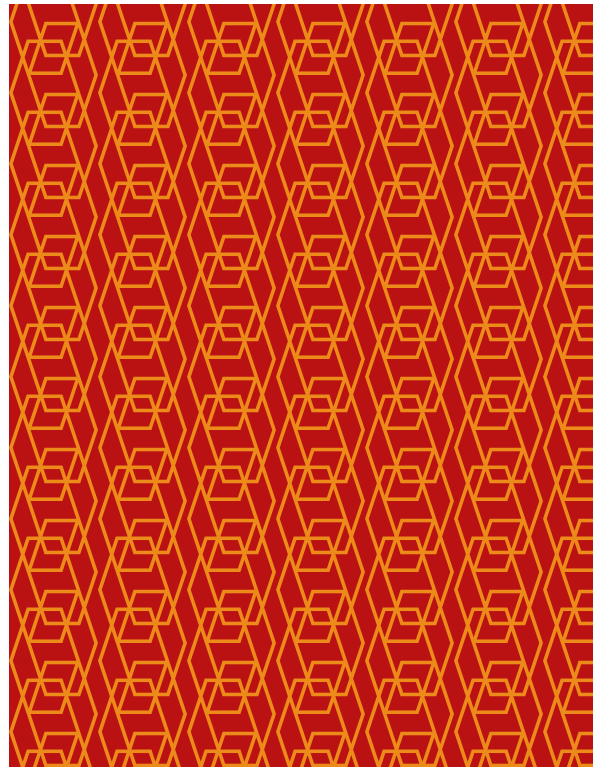

The Watchers

We all felt as if we were being watched the whole time we were here.

Johanna goes missing

We spent the night in a natural depression, shielded from the music of the night. When Siegfried woke to take his watch, he found that Johanna had disappeared! She'd left a note, clearly in her own handwriting, but all it contained were musical notes.

Glamour House

What hides behind the illusion?

Basic information

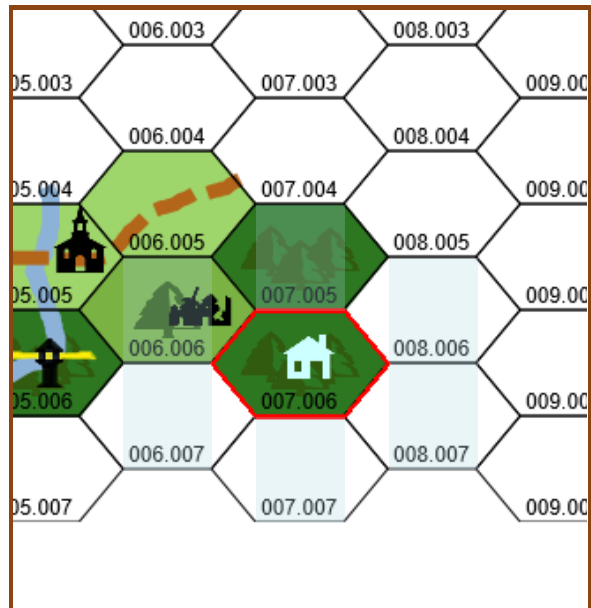

Explored? Fully, except for the house.
Terrain - Dense woods.

Glamour House

We found a clearing with a beautiful, welcoming farmstead. Before we approached, we realized that each of us saw the home differently; one of us saw it as a cabin, another as a longhouse, another as a small chateau. Other details were also different. While we were intrigued, we decided to investigate later, as we were tracking Cletus.

Forgetting

As we left this area, we found our memory of what we'd seen quickly fading. We remembered how nice and welcoming the house was, but only in general terms.

Mechanical Birds

The one detail we all saw, and all agreed on, were the large number of mechanical birds in the farmstead. Chickens, robins, ravens, all of clockwork. While we were looking at the house, this seemed normal; the strangeness only became apparent once we left.
